MRS. MARSHALL FIELD JR.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 21.-The condition of Marshall Field Jr. was to-night considered extremely serious. Doctor Bevan at 11 p. m. reported his patient's pulse at 106 and the temperature 1914, a rise of about two degrees since noon. When asked to-night when he expected the crisis, Doctor Bevan said:

"The crisis is right here now," and he added that Mr. Field's death might be expected at any time during the night, but that he and his assistants were hoping that the patient would live until daylight, in which case they thought there was a chance Everything that medical and surgical science could do has been done, and, con-

STAGE DOG JUMPS

Frenzy" Quits Volunteer Organist Company Near Decatur--Bounds Upon Stage at Havlin's After Swimming River.

"Hello! St. James Hotel? I want Cle.k Quinn."

"Well, this is Quinn, Who are you?"

"I'm Manager W. W. Newcomer of the Volunteer Organist' show that played in Haviin's Theater last week. I'm talking from Decatur, Ill. Say, you get Treasurer Vogelsang or Manager William Garen of the thoater to the phone, will you? I want to find out if they've heard from one of my $150 St. Bernard dogs that jumped the show just before we got here."

This telephonic conversation took place Wednesday afternoon, and, as a result, "Frenzy." a 160-pound St. Bernard, of the finest type, was yesterday shipped off in a big box to the Illinois town.

"Frenzy" became quite a matinee idol while the "Volunteer Organist" was playing at Havilin's last week. With a camine partner he did a brave rescue act in the teeth of a blinding snowstorm and won prolific applause.

midnight. One of the features of the evening was the singing of Miss Essys evening was the singing of Miss Essys for more worlds to conquer, but chose to return to the scene of his St. Louis conquests, for, just as the performance Tuesday afternoon of "After Midnight" was well on, he came bounding through the Haviin stage door, and all but came before the footlights. The stage manager intercepted him and had the tussle of his life in restraining "Frenzy's" thesplanic tendencies.

The dog was wringing wet, and it is the opinion of Manager Garen and Treas-urer Vogelsang of the theater that, in addition to covering the ground between Decatur and East St. Louis, he swam clear across the Mississippi River. Whatever possessed him to come back cannot be figured out.

Stickney's "NEW TARIFF" Cigar

Cigars of "New Tariff" quality have always cost you ten cents—and still do under any other name.

But in the "New Tariff" you get the benefit of the new tariff reduction on Cuban tobacco-a regular out-and-out tencent cigar for a nickel.

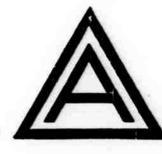

Remember the name "New Tariff" and smoke one to-day. Then you're not likely to forget the name of the best cigar you ever smoked at the price.

You can't get a better cigar than the "New Tariff" for the same money simply because no other manufacturer has the knowledge, equipment nor disposition to develop such choice fragrance in a cigar and sell it for a nickel.

The new refining processes of curing, fermenting and blending develop a richness of flavor and smooth, uniform aroma unmistakably superior to that produced by ordinary
